1. U. S. Supreme Court Justices. Official Photograph. 1949 October Term. 13 x 10 1/2" image, framed in black wood. The photograph was taken in Washington DC by Fabian Bachrach of Bachrach photographic-portrait studios. This famous picture was snapped between poses of the formal photograph of the Court. The image depicted here was not published until it appeared in the August 19, 1961 issue of the Saturday Evening Post. The accompanying article is quoted here and in addition is cut & pasted on the reverse of the photo matting under glass for viewing when the frame is reversed. "But one protest – from the nine justices of the United States Supreme Court – could be satisfied only by suppressing the photograph. When Tom C. Clack was appointed an associate justice, Bachrach went to Washington to photograph the new court. Fabian was behind the camera, and William V. Pennington, a man's photographer from New York, was acting as his assistant. Wanting the subjects more compactly grouped, Pennington said, 'Justice Clark, will you move to the left?' At this request Chief Justice Frederick M. Vinson threw up his hands in mock horror, rolled his eyes and intoned, 'Oh, God forbid!' The court burst into laughter, and Fabian caught their gleeful moment with high-speed flash. Only ten prints were made of the resulting picture. Each justice received one, and the tenth hangs in Pennington's camera room in the Bachrach studio for men in New York City. It is published for the first time on page 27." The photographic bears the signatures of all nine justices as follows: Justices – Clark, Jackson, Burton, Minton, Frankfurter, Black, Vinson, Reed and Douglas. Photographs of the Supreme Court have long been in demand and command high prices at auction. This particular photograph is of further rarity, due to nature of the humor caused by the photographer and his ability to capture it on film. Also of note is the limited printing of only ten copies! In the Superior Galleries May 9th 1992 Manuscript Sale, a signed photograph of the 1937 Supreme Court realized $4070 on spirited bidding. This photographic is of far more scarcity and importance. The photograph is crisp and without problems. Fine. (4000.00)

2. Yeoman, Richard S. Handbook of United States Coins. 1942. 1st edition. 125pp. Blue cloth covers, gilt sharp! Corners nice, one edge bump and just a hint of wear at the extremities. On the first free flyleaf appears the following inscription: To Henry L. Renz, With best of luck to you, my very dear Friend. (signed) Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Oct. 19th 1943. Ex: James J. Curto library. One of the nicest examples of the first edition to come across the auction block in recent years, but with the autograph of FDR, a remarkably rare piece of numismatic literature. Fine. (500.00)

3. Department Of The Treasury, Bureau Of Engraving And Printing. International Women's Year (IWY). 1975. Souvenir Engraved sheet. 10 1/2 x 8 1/2". Mounted in original blue card stock folder, with four pages of accompanying information. On the right border of the souvenir sheet are the autograph signatures of six First Ladies of the United States as follows: Betty Ford, Lady Bird Johnson, Pat Nixon, Bess Truman, Mamie Eisenhower and Jacqueline Kennedy. The consignor meticulously mailed this souvenir sheet to each living First Lady starting in 1975 with Mrs. Ford. Enclosed is also a letter to the consignor from Marba Perrott, the Director of Correspondence for Mrs. Ford. That letter, on White House letterhead reads: "December 15, 1975 Dear Mr. Kucia: It was a pleasure for Mrs. Ford to include her signature on the engraving issued by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to commemorate the International Women's Year. What a fine memento of this international celebration! The President and Mrs. Ford send their warm regards. Sincerely, (signed) Marba Perrott." This engraving is of great rarity and in all likelihood unique! The signature of one First Lady would make it rare and valuable, but with six First Ladies having affixed their autographs, it truly is a piece of history. Very Fine. (1000.00)

To Henry L. Renz
With best of luck to you,

72. Heath, George Francis MD. The Numismatist. January 15, 1891(Vol. 3, No. 2) to December 1893(Vol. 6, No. 12). Bound in ¼ morocco, front cover missing, the spine is loose and several issues show signs of having been folded as originally mailed. The contents are clean, crisp, sound and perfectly matched. You need only to mention the words First Six Volumes of the Numismatist, and collector's eyes widen and their mouths water. This copy starts with the second issue of volume 3 and ends with the last issue of volume 6, and contained between those pages is the birth of the American Numismatic Association. The rarity of individual issues of the first six volumes can be debated, but to find complete volumes or a run of consecutive volumes is in deed a RARE find. With complete sets of the first six volumes selling at auction in the TEN THOUSAND-DOLLAR area, should shine light on this volume's worth. There are at present only fourteen complete sets known to exist with only eight of them in collector's hands. In closing, let me state that this volume is worthy of the finest library and needs only to be rebound and would be at least a VERY FINE volume. Last offered in The Money Tree sale #5 lot 1, March 13, 1989. Fine. (4000.00)

73. Heath, George Francis MD. The Numismatist. 1894(Vol. 7) to 1908(Vol. 20). From the estate of Emery May Norweb, originally belonging to her father Albert F. Bratenahl, Ohio on the free endpaper. Volume 14's spine shows more rubbing than the others do and volume 19's front cover is firmly attached, but only by the original binding tape. All other bindings are sound and have no problems. Albert F. Holden was ANA member #1123 joining in February 1909 and died in 1913. Emery May Holden Norweb was ANA member #1762 having joined in April 1914 and died Mar 23, 1984. This set although only fourteen volumes must stand on its pedigree and uniform binding. This set was sold in The Money Tree sale #2 lot 410, December 12, 1987. Ken Lowe wrote a very detailed account of how this set came on the market in that catalogue. This set would enlighten any library! Fine. (1250.00)

Original 1883 2nd Edition. 42pp. Blue paper covers with small tape on reverse and some light chipping. The binding is sewn and the signature & address of John F. Mr. Hoffmann as can be verified by the pencil annotation on the front free flyleaf obtained this copy from Abe Kosoff on February 4, 1941. According to the Charles Davis work on American Numismatic Literature this edition has only six auction appearances from 1981-1990 with prl's ranging from $825 to $4500. Sept. 16, 1998

Hello to all our friends, old and new,

It has been quite a while since Money Tree's last mail bid sale. As most of you are probably aware, my partner Ken Lowe passed away on February 23d, 1998.

We had been talking for a few months to David J. Sklow about joining us in Rocky River as a partner. This came to fruition in spite of Ken's untimely death and was a situation he would have been most happy with. (I can hear him chastising me for ending a sentence with a preposition)

David is responsible for cataloging this and future sales, and with all the humility I can muster on his behalf, is the foremost authority on the history of the ANA. He has already cataloged the names, dates, and ANA numbers of the first 9,000 members. Gee, only a couple hundred thousand to go, David.

It is our intention to expand our sales to include tokens, medals, badges, and ephemera pertinent to numismatics in future sales, thanks to his added expertise in these areas. He and his wife Sherry will be moving to the North Coast of Ohio just as soon as they can sell their log home in Dover, Delaware.

Coming attractions of our March 1999 (we think) auction will be the dispersal of the Kenneth Lowe library, which will include many scarce and seldom-offered items, and the Richard Buckley library of foreign works, including a complete run of the Forni volumes, and many other scarce ancient research works.

I hope you will all welcome David and Sherry to their limb of the Money Tree. We intend to hold three mail bid sales per year, and continue our publishing efforts on behalf of numismatic authors. Some of you may even see us set up at shows such as Dearborn, Michigan at Thanksgiving.

David will entertain your letters and comments at our address in Rocky River, Ohio.

We sincerely hope you enjoy this sale.

Myron Xenos, NLG
